

Office Vertical Surfaces

Technical Specifications

Overview

Your office operates more efficiently when it's designed to address individual tasks and team goals. Vertical surfaces can help foster collaboration, offer privacy and reduce ambient noise. Textiles for these surfaces from Milliken Specialty Interiors are not only beautiful but enable design flexibility. Whether your team depends on constant collaboration and unimpeded sightlines or you're managing a call center that requires more privacy — or both — we have textiles for systems, benching and screens that help optimize your office's output.
